

organize a symposium on

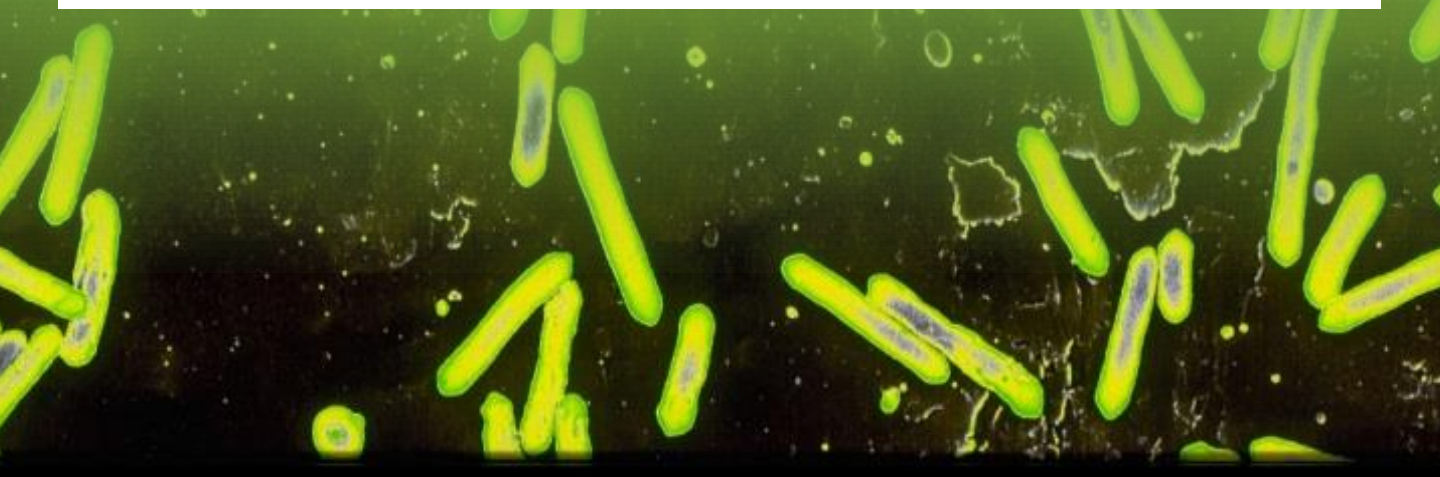

Breakthrough innovation in expression systems and alternative platforms

Wednesday, September 16th - Lyon, FRANCE

ACCINOVA, the biomanufacturing center of Lyonbiopole, and the Microbiology technology institute BIOASTER organize a one-day symposium on expression systems.

The symposium will focus on new technologies and breakthrough innovations in the field of protein expression. It will particularly highlight alternative expression platforms ranging from cell-free expression systems to superior eukaryote including protozoa.

Recent progresses in genetic engineering and its role in the engineering of new expression systems will also be discussed.
